- 66 Each step made on earth bare-footed leaves a charred footprint.
- 67 Hundreds of healed gashes cover your back, though you've never been whipped.
- 68 You carve tiny apocryphal sigils into your skin with fingernails as you sleep. If someone with a mind for puzzles and a knowledge of infernal can decode the script, it will reveal a minor demon's true name.
- 69 Your tail, if somehow detached from your body, will grow back in a month and a half, as the old one turns to a jagged obsidian, too brittle to work.
- 70 The Tiefling's shadow shivers visibly, and sometimes twitches and jerks in an unnatural manner.
- 71 The Tiefling attracts their own blood gravitationally, with the blood being otherwise unaffected by gravity.
- 72 Small clouds of soot appear as the Tiefling exhales.
- 73 The Tiefling's tongue is covered in sharp teeth.
- 74 The Tiefling's teeth can be folded backwards like those of an anglerfish.

- 76 Followed by a loyal servant that no one else can see, hear or feel.
- 77 When laughing, nearby fires sputter, spark and release sulphuric smoke.
- 78 In the presence of priests, monks or clerics can only speak in sing-song rhymes.
- 79 The slightest touch on their skin leaves a black imprint that fades a few seconds after the pressure stops.
- 80 Their blood glows like magma, and turns into solid glass/obsidian soon after leaving the body.

- 81 Pupils/irises look like a highly reflective metal and act as mirrors.
- 82 A ring of long, soft fur grows around the tiefling's neck.
- 83 Long, black claws in place of nails that cannot be cut, only filed.
- 84 Candles are snuffed as if by wind in their presence.
- 85 Short, bobbed tail where a long, pointed one ought to be.
- 86 All bodily fluids (blood, spit, etc) are pitch black and shine like oil.
- 87 Grass dies wherever they stand, sit or lay for an extended period of time.
- 88 With every beat of the tiefling's heart there is a surge of heat through it's body.
- 89 You are inexplicably drawn to music, but you can never understand how to create it.
- 90 Small, heatless flames flicker across your skin when you're angry.
- 91 You understand the thoughts of reptiles.
- 92 Secondary set of eyes set below a typical pair, one set for normal light, the second for darkvision.
- 93 Any fire within 5 feet of the tiefling burns dimmer, but hotter.
- 94 Their breath is icy cold and fogs in all temperatures but the coldest of winter.
- 95 Their only otherworldly feature is their horns, which they constantly file close to their scalp to attempt to look more human.
- 96 Has an extra set of teeth on their lips, outside of their mouth.
- 97 The tiefling doesn't open its mouth to speak. It's voice seems to emanate from some source deep within the bowels of the creature.
- 98 Shadow effects physical objects by touching their shadows and is darker than normal.
