INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Whisper Agents, an adventure for the Guildmasters' Guide to Ravnica. This adventure is designed to follow the events of Assault on Precinct Four or Trostani Discordant, allowing the characters from those adventures to reclaim the powerful artifact known as the felicity triskelion from the clutches of the Dimir.

This adventure takes place in two distinct areas. Depending on what information the party already has, they may need to venture into the West Plaza Basilica in Precinct One. There, they meet with Pontiff Launa Boonad, who is able to provide them knowledge that they need to progress, for a price.

Either with the assistance of Launa, or their own skills, the party must then venture into the Undercity below the Whitestone neighborhood in Precinct Two. There, a hidden Dimir safehouse, as well as the felicity triskelion, awaits them. The party must fight their way through this safehouse in order to reach the artifact before it causes certain devastation to consume Ravnica.

The majority of the following content is devoted to describing the encounters and opposition found in the aforementioned areas as well as forwarding the plots and subplots introduced in Off to a Weird Start, The Palace of Pain's Pleasures, and the rest of the Secrets of the Triskelion campaign. While this adventure is designed for a party of three to five characters of 6th or 7th Level, the Dungeon Master can easily scale the adventure up by adding additional enemies or increasing the hit points and damage output of the listed antagonists.

ROAD SO FAR

A chain of events was set into motion when a galvanice weird went berserk. After nearly destroying an Izzet laboratory, it made its way into a Rakdos performance platform known as the Palace of Pain's Pleasures. There, the adventurers found out the weird was a diversion, orchestrated by a Dimir spy named Rogad Nar, so that he could access the notes of Ophyira, the Palace's owner.

This information led the adventures to Brobourg, a neighborhood in the Undercity under Precinct Four, where they found what remained of Rogad Nar, and the artifact that transformed him into a Horror: the felicity triskelion.

Upon making their way back to the surface with the artifact, the adventurers were arrested and taken to Arrester Station 13. While they awaited trial, a Gruul war band lay siege to the Station as to free another inmate, the Gruul shaman Nyrvolas Sid. Dimir agents intent on taking the felicity triskelion took advantage of the chaos.

After Komni, a precognitive mage, had a vision of the triskelion causing great destruction, the adventurers were sent to the Selesnya Conclave. There Trostani revealed the true nature of the felicity triskelion. Shortly after leaving Vitu-Ghazi, the adventurers were ambushed by desperate Dimir agents.

ROGAD NAR

Rogad Nar was a Dimir spy who was infiltrating the Orzhov. As a Syndic enforcer, he was tasked with collecting overdue payments from a guildless curio collector named Peren.

While trying to hunt down the Devkarin, he sabotaged an Izzet laboratory and released a galvanice weird, resulting in the events of the adventure Off to A Weird Start. This allowed him to sneak aboard the Palace of Pain's Pleasures. What he found was notes on where Peren lived, as well as on the mysterious artifact known as the felicity triskelion. Unfortunately for Rogad, Peren died before he could collect his payments. Rogad is presumably killed by the party during the events of The Felicity Triskelion, after the still active artifact transformed him into a Horror.

Rogad's connection to the Orzhov means that he now exists as an indentured spirit.

THE ROAD AHEAD

At the end of Assault on Precinct Four or Trostani Discordant, it is possible that the Dimir have acquired the Triskelion. Whisper Agents offers the opportunity to resolve that portion of the investigation, after which you will want to run Trostani Discordant if you have not done so yet, before moving onto Crosstown Couriers.

If the party is following a Dimir operative after the events of Trostani Discordant and is therefore already headed towards the location of the felicity triskelion, skip ahead to Part 2.

PART 1: ROGAD NAR

Players that have played through the adventures earlier in the campaign might have enough clues to know, or guess, that the spirit of Rogad Nar is under Orzhov control. However, the exact Basilica that Rogad Nar is indentured to may still be unknown. If they do know where he is, skip right ahead to The Orzhov Basilica section of this part.

If the party is unaware of Rogad's connection to the Orzhov, perhaps having no idea that his spirit still exists, finding more about him and his contacts is still their best bet with proceeding.

Either way, the party needs more information on Rogad to continue.

INVESTIGATING ROGAD NAR

If a party member has an Orzhov contact that they can ask, a successful DC 12 Intelligence (Investigation) check will reveal that Rogad had debts with the Pontiff of the West Plaza Basilica.

If the party returns to Brobourg, the neighborhood that Peren lived in, and Rogad was turned into a Horror in, they will discover that it was common knowledge in Brobourg that both of them dealt with the Orzhov. While asking the neighbors, a successful DC 14 Intelligence (Investigation) check will allow a party member to find out that these Orzhov members all came from the same Basilica.

If the party is unsure of how to proceed, a winged thrull finds them, carrying a letter from the Pontiff of the West Plaza Basilica. The letter explains that she has information they might be interested in, and to follow the winged thrull if they want to meet with her. If this action is necessary, the Pontiff will be acutely aware of how much leverage she has over the party and will demand more from them when they barter for information.

THE ORZHOV BASILICA

The Basilica itself is in Precinct One. Dungeon Masters looking to make this journey more eventful may generate random encounters by rolling on the People on The Street - Precinct One table in Guildmasters' Guide to Ravnica.

When the party arrives at the Basilica they can ask to speak with the Pontiff. By doing so, the two knights in area 1 will escort the party to area 19 of the Basilica, the Pontiff's office. The Pontiff is Launa Boonad (F LE blood drinker vampire).

1. VISITORS ENTRANCE

This entrance, like most of the Basilica, is made out of pristine white marble. 2 knights are at the door and 3 indentured spirits are floating in the ceiling waiting for orders. There are benches near the doors to the Ministrant offices so that people who have appointments can wait.

Treasure. None

2. BUSY MINISTRANT'S OFFICE

The Ministrant (NB LN Elf priest) in here is busy and will not be of much help to anyone.

Treasure. A DC 15 Intelligence (Investigation) check on the shelves will allow a character to collect information on three people who owe the syndicate, but it must be done without the Ministrant being aware or the character will be arrested.

3. AVAILABLE MINISTRANT'S OFFICE

The Ministrant (M N Human priest) in this office is accompanied by a servitor thrull. He'll happily offer himself to guide the party to the Pontiff's office. A DC 14 Wisdom (Insight) check will reveal that this Ministrant wants any excuse to be near the Pontiff.

Treasure. A sack rests on top of the desk, it contains 10d6 10-zino coins.

4. WAITING ROOM

A row of chairs lines one of the walls of this room. On the opposite side, a wrought iron gate guards the stairway down to the lower floor of the Basilica. The knights all have a key that will unlock this gate.

Treasure. None

5. ROOM OF REDEMPTION

A large wooden table covered in impeccable white cloth is in the center of this room. A small walk in storage room keeps several silver chalices and expensive wine bottles safe.

Treasure. 7 wine bottles worth 100 1-zino coins each, a set of silver chalices worth 30 1-zino coins.

6. ORZHOV ENTRANCE

This entrance features a wooden mail box. A knight (NB Human LG) guards this room, checking for Orzhov Insignias.

Treasure. None

10. SYNDIC SLEEPING QUARTERS

11. KITCHEN

Some stoves are flush against the walls of this small kitchen. A big rough wooden table is right in the center. 2 indentured spirits are cooking something.

This long corridor connects the kitchen back round to the entrance. A staircase leading down to area 13 can also found here.

Treasure. None

17. SECRET SANCTUM

The entrance to this room can only be detected with a DC 19 Wisdom (Perception) check. To enter requires a password known only by the Pontiff or a DC 18 Intelligence (Arcana) check to bypass the magic door. Inside, a single wooden chair can be found. Flushed against the west wall is a shelf containing several vials of blood, some of which are labeled.

Treasure. None

18. HIGH SECURITY INTERSECTION

19. PONTIFF'S OFFICE

This is the office of Pontiff Launa Boonad. Its decorations are exquisite, from the silk curtains decorating the walls to the details carved in the marble floor. The desk centering the room looks like it could sell for enough to feed 5 families for the rest of their lives. The Pontiff is at said desk, writing and reading letters. 2 servitor thrulls are standing in a corner, awaiting instructions. If the Pontiff's winged thrull is with the party, it joins the two other thrulls in the corner and rests on a perch.

Treasure. The desk has 2 shelves that have 50 10-zino coins in each of them.

20. SAFE

In addition to the knights outside it, this safe is also protected by a magical ward. It requires a DC 22 Intelligence (Arcana) check to disarm, and any failed attempt will sound the alarm on the entire Basilica.

Treasure. Inside the safe is the gold belonging to this Basilica, which is used mostly to make more loans. All of the coins and gold inside will total an amount of 10 000 zinos.

21. STORAGE ROOM

This room is filled to the top with a mixture of cleaning supplies, extra cloths.

Treasure. There is a 2 ft. tall wooden statue in here worth 75 zinos.

TALKING TO THE PONTIFF

Once faced with Launa the party can ask questions regarding Rogad Nar. The party can proceed in a diplomatic fashion, the Orzhov are nothing but welcome to negotiation.

ROLEPLAYING LAUNA BOONAD

Born into the Syndicate, Launa grew up surrounded by treachery and greed. She chose to be turned into a vampire. The flaws of human life expectancy were but shackles to her own ambitions.

Ideal. I will attain such power and wealth that people will beg to work under me.

Bond. The Obzedat achieved what no one else could, I admire that.

Flaw. My ambitions know no bounds.

The Pontiff will barter for information on Rogad Nar. Below are some of the things she will accept as payment. If anyone in the party is an Orzhov member, and has 25 or more renown in the guild, Launa will simply ask for a favor in the future that will most likely to increase her own rank.

- Payment with Loyalty. Launa will be pleased if someone in the party leaves their own guild and pledges allegiance to the Orzhov. The more party members that choose to do this, the happier Launa will be.
- Payment with Blood. Launa will perform a bite attack on all willing party members. If a party member succeeds in a DC 15 Intelligence (Arcana) check, they will be aware that performing this will create a Blood Bond between them and the Pontiff.
- Payment with Zinos. Launa will ask for 1000 zinos from each party member. They are not required to pay at this moment, the party can sign a contract of debt.
- Payment with Compliance. If someone in the party is allied with the Azorius, Launa will suggest putting them under a geas, so they do not willingly interfere with Orzhov business during the next month.

If Rogad's spirit has not been destroyed the Pontiff will snap her fingers and call for him, allowing the party to question him all they want. Due to his debt to Launa, Rogad will answer truthfully any questions the party asks and will say that, if his cohorts got their hands in the Triskelion, they would take it to the safe house.

If Rogad's spirit has been destroyed, the Pontiff reveals that she started her own investigation. Through her own means, she has discovered the location of the Dimir safehouse where Rogad and his cohorts met. She believes that this is where the Triskelion now waits.

Before they leave, Launa will make a proposition to the party. If they retrieve the Triskelion and give it to her, she will wipe away any debt they have with the Orzhov and offer them high ranks within the Syndicate.

PART 2: HUNTING THE DIMIR

However they managed to discover it, the party is now aware of the location of the Dimir safehouse in Precinct Two's Undercity. The safehouse can be found by entering the sewers through a loose grate in the Whitestone neighborhood, and traversing the uncomfortable heat of the second pipe tunnel that is encountered until it opens into the Undercity. After walking in the opposite direction of the pipe tunnel, they eventually encounter the safehouse, protected by wards aimed to misdirect and confuse those who come across it.

If the party talked with Rogad or the Pontiff, they know the hand movements required to bypass the wards.

If the party is tailing Dimir operatives, they need to make a DC 13 Wisdom (Perception) check and a DC 16 Intelligence check to realize that the operatives hand movements are what makes passage to the safehouse possible. If those checks fail, the wards cause those affected to become confused, causing them to forget the nature of their errand and directing them back to the Whitestone neighborhood. Once they are back on the surface, they remember why they went down to the Undercity again.

If that occurs the party must stake out the entrance and wait for more operatives to try to enter. To recognize a Dimir operative a party member must make a DC 17 Wisdom (Perception) check, a Dimir guild member has advantage on the check.

SAFEHOUSE RAID

While the party is assaulting the safehouse, the Dimir assassin is tinkering with the felicity triskelion. If the party takes too long getting to the assassin, and removing the artifact from their hands, it will be opened.

1. INTERROGATOR'S HALL

Natural light seeps into the safehouse through the crumbling stone ruins here, creating some shadowy areas in the process. There is a ward in the northern part of this area. If triggered, it will cause a silent explosion dealing 3d8 psychic damage to anyone in it that fails a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw. This silent explosion will also sound an alarm that alerts about intruders to every Dimir character in the safehouse. To spot the ward a character must make a DC 18 Wisdom (Perception) or Intelligence (Arcana) check. It can be disarmed by dispel magic or a similar spell.

13. NORTH PRIVATE ROOM

The door to this private room is unlocked, a thought spy (F Human N) is inside working out.

Treasure. A DC 14 Intelligence (Investigation) check will reveal there are two potions of healing on a desk in the corner.

14. SOUTH PRIVATE ROOM

This private room is locked, and it requires a DC 14 Dexterity check using thieves' tools to be opened. For every failed check flip a coin. If it lands on tails, the spies sleeping in area 12 will wake up. Inside the room there is nothing of interest.

DENOUEMENT

By the end of this adventure the party will either have the felicity triskelion in their hands or they took too long and the artifact has been opened. From here, the campaign diverges dramatically depending the status of the Triskelion.

If the party successfully retrieved the artifact from the Dimir's hands, subtract 1 renown with the Dimir from everyone in the party. Escaping the safehouse and returning to the surface is possible without any major complications. With the Triskelion safely in their possession, the party must now decide what to do with it.

If the party has not visited the Selesnya Conclave for information on the Triskelion, that should be their next stop. If they are unaware of Komni's vision, have either Caipei or Ophyira find and inform them of it, leading them to the events of Trostani Discordant.

If the party has already been informed by Trostani of the true nature of the Triskelion, they must now decide which of the Guildmaster's plans that they want to follow. The outcomes for each of the three plans can be found in Crosstown Couriers.

If the Triskelion has been opened or given to Launa proceed to Thousand Year Storm, where all of Ravnica shall face the consequences.

No matter the outcome, the party has gone through quite the ordeal. DMs using milestone advancement should allow the adventurers to increase their level at the end of this adventure. Those using experience points should grant appropriate awards for the enemies defeated or overcome.
