The Crew of the Ethereal Stormcloud

The Ethereal Stormcloud is crewed by an eclectic group of failors, pirates and brigands whom Cap'n Mialee has recruited and befriended over the years. Though they may have strong disagreements from time to time, the crew ultimately sees one another as family. They are unfalteringly loyal to one another, and above all, to their Captain. Full character sheets for Captain Mialee and the First Mate, Kamaria Sahandi, are included at the back of this book.

Kobolds

Cap'n Mialee employs four kobold deck hands on the crew of the Ethereal Stormcloud. They are very loyal to the Captain (mainly because they are terrified of her, but also because she treats them relatively well.) The deck hands are responsible for basic cleaning and maintenance of the ship, managing the supplies. Their names are Kodo, Podo, Sudo, and Modo. In addition to the kobold deck hand statistics, each kobold has one tool proficiency. Kodo is proficient with brewer's supplies. Podo is proficient with tinker's tools, Sudo is proficient with leatherworker's tools, and Modo is proficient with thieves' tools.

Tieflings

There are three tieflings on the crew of the Ethereal Stormcloud, each of whom performs primary duties as riggers. In addition to their normal crew duties, each tiefling performs a specialty task. Vice, so named for the delectable nature of her culinary preparations serves as the ship's cook and is proficient in cook's utensils. Despair, so named for her panicked bedside manner, serves as ship's surgeon. She is proficient with the herbalism kit and poisoner's kit. Doom serves as the ship's carpenter. He is proficient in carpenter's tools. Apart from those proficiencies, all three tieflings use the tiefling swashbuckler stat block.

Rivet is also proficient with smith's tools and handles any metalworking that the crew may need. Fuse serves as the Powder Runner, acting in support of Rivet. Fuse is proficient in alchemist's supplies as well as all weapons aboard the ship. Aside from these proficiencies, both warforged use the warforged swashbuckler stat block.

The warforged swashbuckler adds its Constitution modifier to the number rolled and reduces the damage by that total. After using this trait, the warforged swashbuckler can't use it again until it finishes a short or long rest.

The Ship: The Ethereal Stormcloud

The Ethereal Stormcloud is a dirigible-style airship, given loft by a hot-air balloon, fueled and heated via a bound fire elemental. A bound air elemental is housed in the propeller at the bow of the ship. steering is managed via the propeller and rudder. If the airbags are deflated, they can be re-hung as a sail, allowing for conventional sailing. The ship is capable of sailing in water as a normal sailing ship of its size.

In addition to these propulsion systems, the Ethereal Stormcloud is fitted with a magical helm, capable of casting the plane shift spell. The helm has one charge, which it expends whenever it is used to cast plane shift. This charge can be recharged by expending 10 levels worth of spell slots while seated at the helm. These slots are spent into the Ethereal Stormcloud's engine and cannot be used to cast spells. Spell slots spent to recharge the helm are regained normally.

When the helm casts plane shift, the spell affects the entire ship and all of its inhabitants and contents.

Regardless of whether it travels by sea or air, the Ethereal Stormcloud has a speed of 4 mph. Like all airships, the Ethereal Stormwind is affected by wind to some degree. A strong headwind can halve the speed of the ship, while a strong tailwind can double it.

The ship can hold up to 1 ton of cargo and requires a crew of three to properly operate the propeller, furnace, and rudder. If there are only two crew members working to control the ship, all Dexterity (Vehicles (Water)) checks made to maneuver or control the ship are made at disadvantage. If the ship has fewer than two crew members on duty, its speed can't be controlled, and it moves in a random direction, carried by the wind, until control is regained or until it collides with something.

The gondola and the balloon are separate targets. The gondola has AC 15, 200 hit points, and a damage threshold of 15. The balloon has AC 11, 30 hit points. and a damage threshold of 8. Both have immunity to poison and psychic damage. If the balloon drops to 0 hit points, it bursts, and the ship loses the ability to fly. While the balloon or gondola has at least 1 hit point, it can be repaired. Repairing 1 hit point of damage to either the balloon or the gondola requires 1 day and costs 20 gp. (Mending spells can repair superficial damage but can't restore hit points. Repair spells on the other hand...)

The Ethereal Stormcloud carries two collapsible ballista, which can be moved among four large port holes in the sides of the ship. These ballista use the following statistics:

BALLISTA

Large object

Armor Class: 15

Hit Points: 50

Damage Immunities: poison, psychic

A ballista is a massive crossbow that fires heavy bolts. Before it can be fired, it must be loaded and aimed. It takes one action to load the weapon, one action to aim it, and one action to fire it. The ballista on the Ethereal Stormcloud are equipped with special bolts, called Bolts of Talos, which magically discharge electricity when fired.

Bolts of Talos. Ranged Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, range 120/480 ft., one target. Hit: 16 (3d10) piercing damage plus 16 (3d10) lightning damage. While the piercing damage from bolts of talos is not considered magical, the lightning damage dealt by these bolts is magical.

When fully supplied, the Ethereal Stormcloud carries 60 bolts of talos.

Mialee claims that she was born in the City of Doors, raised on the open seas of the Elemental Plane of Water, and has traveled to every corner of the multiverse. To hear her tell it, she won the Ethereal Stormcloud in a game of Prophet's Gambit over a century ago, and has been hauling cargo, adventurers, refugees, and oddities wherever the fare will take her ever since. The truth of where she comes from, how she came to own this fantastic vessel, and what truly motivates her is up to the Dungeon Master to decide, but she is unlikely to change her story. Mialee loves adventure, the sea, drinking, and the occasional brawl. She is not a fan of authority, and takes any chance she gets to thumb her nose in its general direction.

Kamaria was born and raised in Port Nyanzaru. As a child she loved watching the ships sailing in and out of the port. As soon as she was able, she took a job on a sailing ship, the Tri-horn. Her first few days at sea were a dream come true. She was realizing a lifelong dream of life on the waves. It was everything she had hoped it would be.

Unfortunately, the dream was shattered when harsh reality set in. Her ship was attacked by pirates. Most of the crew were murdered, and the rest were pressed into service on the new ship. Kamaria had only known the crew of the Tri-horn for a short time, but she vowed revenge for their deaths. She waited for opportunity to strike. Six months into her service on the pirate vessel, Kamaria led her remaining crewmates in a midnight uprising. They managed to overtake the pirate ship, dispatch their captors and return to Chult. Shortly thereafter, Kamaria was found by Mialee and offered work aboard the Ethereal Stormcloud, where she has remained and worked her way through the ranks to First Mate.
